Sequoia Board To Consider 6 New Schools

Sequoia High School District trustees, faced with a better-than-threefold increase in student population in the next 10 years, are to meet tomorrow to consider methods of financing construction of six new high schools in the Redwood City-Menlo Park area in the next 7 years.

Immediate initiation of the program became an apparent necessity last week, with submission of findings made in surveys by Harold F. Wise of Menlo Park, Dr. Clyde Ogden, superintendent of the high school district and Dr. James McConnell of Stanford.

All the surveys were independent; all reached the same conclusions concerning growth of student population in the area bounded by San Francisquito and Cordilleras creeks (the latter the northern boundary of Redwood City), San Francisco bay and Skyline boulevard.

To be asked tomorrow night, according to Dr. Ogden, will probably be funds to complete a high school in the vicinity of Alameda de las Pulgas and Woodside road, funds for the purchase of the site of which are already in hand, and funds with which to purchase sites for the other schools as opportunities to purchase them come to hand.

This may mean a bond issue, initially, of more than $2,500,000. To follow this would be other bond issues for the building of the five other high schools. A high school, as a complete unit, costs about $1,500,000.

LACK QUORUM

Action on the building program was to have been gotten underway last Friday night; however, trustees lacked a quorum with which to take action. The figures on which the trustees will take action, however, were released at a press conference Friday afternoon.

Wise's figures stack up this way:

At the present time, there are 3390 kindergarten, first, second and third-grade pupils in the portion of the Sequoia high school district south of Cordilleras creek. In 10 years, these will be in high school; even with no new families moving into the district, the high school population would increase, for the area, from its present 3000 to that number.

Population of the area was 65,195 according to the 1950 census; building permits issued since then, through December, 1952 indicate the population is now about 86,056 —an increase of 31.99 per cent in a little over two and a half years.

"Thus," Wise told reporters, "we feel safe in projecting a figure of 9,000 high school students for nine years from now."

(Wise was engaged to make his survey by the Menlo Investment Company, holders of the Sharon estate west of Menlo Park. The development firm directed that Wise's statistics be made available to the high school district.)

NEEDED SOON

To keep the high schools within a 2500-capacity population — allowing that the existing Sequoia high school plant has a capacity of 2000 — seven high schools will be needed, in all. The next facility should be ready when the total student enrollment of Sequoia and Menlo-Atherton reaches 3500.

"This year, the high schools will graduate a total of 600 pupils, but next fall they will take in 1020 freshmen. This can be accurately determined from the number al-

SEEN A FOX

There is one.

Her name is "Snafu," and she apparently left her Partridge avenue home Sunday. At least, she hasn't been seen since then.

The reason she's expected to be hungry, according to her owner, is that she has to subsist on a special diet.

The pet is generally quite friendly, and will remain so unless caged by strangers. She's never been penned up in all her eight months of life.

Snafu can be identified as being other than a wild fox by the fact that she's wearing a black leather harness. She can also be identified by her markings: gray, with a black stripe down her tail, red ears and a red belly with a bit of white there, also.

Persons finding the fox—dead or alive — are asked to contact her owner at DA 5-4852.

P. S.—Maybe she's headed toward her birthplace—a Pescadero area lumber camp.

C of C Gathers Reports for Jan. 29 Meeting

Committee reports now coming into the office of the Chamber of Commerce of Menlo Park in preparation for that organization's dinner meeting on Jan. 29 were reviewed Tuesday morning by the board of directors.

Reports indicating achievements during the fiscal year to date already have been received from all except two or three committees, according to Secretary-Manager Mrs. Bonnie Heard. They will be presentd to the general membership at the dinner, to be held at Rickey's Studio Inn.

Menlo Park resident Stephen C. Paxton, assistant general manager of the California State Chamber of Commerce, is to be the main speaker of the evening.

Tickets for the event, which members and non-members are invited to attend, may be purchased from Frederick B. Walker, chairman of the ticket committee, or from any member of his group.

FOR FIGHT AGAINST POLIO

The 'Lung' shown above will be pushed down Santa Cruz avenue Saturday morning, being moved an inch for each dime contributed, by the reservists. Moving the 'Iron Lung'

Menlo Park Reserve Police Schedule March of Dimes Event Saturday

Menlo Park's police reserve will do its part for the March of Dimes Saturday, moving an "iron lung" about the business district to encourage residents to contribute money for the fight against infantile paralysis.

Already officers of the reserve and the Menlo Park police department have contributed a total of $50 to help victims of the dread scourge of polio.

Richard Burke, chairman of the reservists' committee for the canvass, explains how the project will work:

A large model of an "iron lung," carrying a large-size doll and placed on a hospital gurney, will start its tour of the business district from Santa Cruz avenue opposite Doyle street at 10 a. m.

Each contribution will move the device an inch down the street; the officers' contributions have already started it on its way.

Accompanying the "iron lung" will be Miss Audrey Tomseth, acting nurse at Menlo Park veterans' hospital and second-place winner in a "Miss government girl" contest of 1951.

With her will be a group of young dancers from Rose Ann Sayler's dance studio, who will give a 30-minute show: Linda Mozak, Anna Jeanne DeOcampo, Michele Marino, Ann Stevens, Jul-Ann Jensen, Sandy Walker and the Twirlettes — the latter a group of 14 baton-twirlers headed by Thelma Oliver. Carol Thompson of Palo Alto will also participate.

Serving on Burke's committee are Forrest Bennett, maker of the model "iron lung" and L. T. "Bill" Smith, also of the reserve.

"We don't know how far or how fast the 'lung' will be moved by contributions," Burke said this week, "but we'll stay on the job as long as necessary to be of real benefit to this worthy cause."

The Menlo Park Police Reserve is under training of Sergeant William Pogge of the regular police

City Plans

CHEAP WATER

"It is the intention of the Menlo Park City Water Department to provide the best possible service to customers at the lowest possible cost," according to water department ordinances.

How this is to be done is the subject, this week, of the column, "Your City's Business," on page 4.

7 EPA Youths Linked In Auto Theft Ring

Menlo Park Police Inspector William Kieler, acting on a "tip" supplied through Palo Alto police, Tuesday cracked a second East Palo Alto juvenile car theft ring to be broken by officers within two weeks. At least seven recent auto thefts have been cleared up.

The "gang" broken by Kieler numbers at least seven members. Thus far, questioning has not revealed any connection with a gang headed by 21-year-old Bill Tovar, which was rounded up by Palo Alto officers two weeks ago.

Two of the recently-arrested boys, both 16, are behind bars in Palo Alto. The other five have been released into the custody of their parents.

Investigation leading to arrest of the ringleaders began Sunday evening, with the report of the theft of a car owned by Robert R. Waestman, Stanford student, from Stanford Village.

On Tuesday morning, a resident of the 2500 block of Fordham street, University Village, saw four 'teen-agers apparently abandoning a car. His suspicions were aroused by the boys' actions and the fact that they were parking in an area seldom used. He called Palo Alto police.

The Palo Alto officers found the car on their "hot car" list and notified the Menlo Park department. Officer Kieler was sent to investigate.

After identifying the auto on Fordham street as the one taken from Stanford Village, Kieler was proceeding north on Bay road when he encountered two 'teen-agers whose descriptions fitted those of the two boys seen near the abandoned car.

GIVES RIDE

They were hitch-hiking. The inspector offered them a ride—to the police department.

Under questioning, the youths, both 16, admitted participating in the theft, but implicated two other boys who, they said, were the "ringleaders."

These two wer picked up Tuesday afternoon on Stanford campus. According to officers there, they were attempting to steal an auto when they were taken in.

The youth identified as the "ringleader" by Menlo Park officers he had taken a total of about 20 cars, from cities ranging from San Francisco through Palo Aito.

Police officers in Palo Alto, Menlo Park, Redwood City and San Francisco are able to account for seven of the cars, according to Police Chief George Potter; the others were probably taken from towns not contacted as of yesterday noon.

The "ringleader," according to officers, also gave the names of three other boys, ages 14 and 15, for whom he had stolen cars.

These were contacted by police Tuesday evening, and admitted using stolen cars supplied by the older juveniles. They were later released into the custody of their parents.

The two boys involved in the attempted auto theft at Stanford Tuesday are the ones in custody.

All seven reside in East Palo Alto.

American Insurance Group

A Fast-Growing Concern Joins Life of a Fast-Growing Community

Now at home in fast-growing Menlo Park, the fast-growing Pacific Department of the American Insurance Group this week opened the doors of its new, half-million-dollar headquarters building in the Linfield Oaks professional zone.

It thus became the fourth member of this new West Coast administrative development, which also includes the headquarters of Sunset Magazine, the Magna Engineering company and the western regional offices of Allstate Insurance company.

Operating independently of the company's home office in Newark, N. J., except in matters of top-level policy, the Menlo Park headquarters will issue insurance through some 1500 agents and brokers throughout Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Alaska and Hawaii.

The company handles fire, auto, inland marine and casualty insurance—all types except life.

The Pacific Department is in charge of William B. Miller, vice president, with J. Walter Byrne, C. B. Forrester, C. A. McMillan, and George C. O'Connell as assistant managers.

About 130 employees now are employed in the building situated at 333 Middlefield road, adjacent to the southerly side of Stanford Village.

Main feature of the 28,000-square-foot structure is the single high-ceilinged central office, running the full 165-foot length of the building, where all underwriting, loss and accounting operations are carried on.

Administrative offices are located in front of this main concourse. Separate rooms to the rear house statistical and stenographic departments and a mailing room which handles an average of 2500 to 3000 pieces of outgoing mail daily.

A mezzanine floor contains rest rooms, a lunch room looking westward to the hills and opens out to a sundeck.

Indicative of the concern's rapid growth in recent years is the fact that in 1945, with a staff of 35 employees, the Pacific Department wrote $1,250,000 of insurance. In 1952, the total was approximately $8,500,000.

The present building is designed to accommodate comfortably at least 175 employees.

Parent company of the American Insurance Group is the American Insurance company, founded in Newark in 1846. Since then other insurance companies have been combined with it to form the present organization.

Formal opening of the new building is planned some time in the spring. Interior of the structure is now complete. Lanscaping and exterior painting will be completed later.

A metropolitan office of the company is to be maintained at 369 Pine street to serve San Francisco area brokers. Former location of the offices was at 256 Montgomery street.

Baptists Plan Farewell Reception for Dr. Eden

Dr. Eden retires at the end of the current month.

All friends of the church, at Middle avenue and Arbor road, are invited to attend.

Sequoia Trustees to Discuss Building Program for 6 New Schools

'Redistricting' Gets

EYEBROW UP

Discussion of possible unification or unionization of the southern end of Sequoia High School district, underway last week, got a "raised eyebrow" from District Superintendent Dr. Clyde Ogden last week.

Commenting on the building program which surveys indicate is necessary in the southern end of the district, Dr. Ogden pointed out,

"To finance a 10-year program, whic is to see the building of five new high schools, will tax the resources of the entire district . . ."

Atherton Residents Serve on Panel

The board of directors of the Family Service agency of San Mateo county will be hosts to the agency membership next Wednesday evening, Jan. 28 at a discussion-meeting at the Hillsborough home of Dr. and Mrs. Carl D. Benninghoven.

Ben C. Duniway of Atherton will serve as chairman for the panel, and will discuss, "The Family Agency in Private Lives." Others serving on the panel with him will be Louis B. Lundborg and Mrs. Willard S. Johnston, also of Atherton.

The family service agency is a division of the Community Chest.

Menlo Park Men Win $100 Cash Prizes

Two Menlo Park men recently took $100 prizes in an industry-wide sales contest, sponsored by Jensen Industries, Inc., the phonograph needles manufacturers.

The two are R. K. Bodding, 200 Robin way and W. H. Robbin, 221 Elm street.

Both won their prizes in a "completion-of-statement" type of competition.

Scout Committeemen Named for District

Three Menlo Park men have been named officers of the Live Oak District, San Mateo county Boy Scout council, it was announced this week.

The three are William V. Regan, chairman; Roy Saxton, vice chairman and William P. Rullhausen.

Other new officers of the district are Bennet J. Valdes of Palo Alto and M. J. Felciano, member-at-large for the district.

ready in eighth grades of elementary schools in the area.

"That means that four years hence there will be a high school graduation class of 1020, even if we allow for no increase in the area's population whatsoever.

The new class entering means that, too, the high schools in the area south of Cordilleras creek will have a population of nearly 3500; this means the new school to serve the Woodside area should be ready next fall.

"Continuing the work with 'firm' figures, based on present enrollment in elementary schools, we find that enrollment will be about 5000 for the 1956-57 school year. The fourth high school in the area under discussion should be ready by that time."

Wise explained that, beyond that point, some projection was used to bring the figure to the "10,000 high school pupils" seen; for the four years immediately ahead, no projection was used at all.

He added that the next school should be built somewhere in the vicinity of Woodside road and Alameda de las Pulgas. Attendance lines would make it practical for a distribution of pupils so there would be 1300 at Sequoia, 1200 at Menlo-Atherton and 1000 at the new school.

(This is the school for which funds to buy a site were allocated in a bond issue last May.—ed.)

Subsequent schools, to keep all within the district within the 1500-pupil category, would have to be built in North Fair Oaks, East Palo Alto, Emerald Lake area and Sandhill road-Searsville lake areas, in the order above, at two-year intervals.

COSTLY PROGRAM

Dr. Ogden pointed out that implementing the program will tax the resources of the district as a whole, and state aid may also be required to meet the needs of the fast-growing high school community.

It takes from two to three years between hiring an architect and having a school ready for occupancy, he pointed out, adding that he would ask the district's trustees to hire a school planner immediately. He said that a special election may be held before the district board of trustees' election in May, even if it means an additional $2000 to $3000 in cost.

"One of the things which will help time the bond issue will be how soon we can acquire a Woodside school site. If this can be done in the immediate future, we may be able to get construction underway by June or July of this year.

"The reason provision for purchase of additional school sites should also be a part of the bond issue," I feel, "is that land in all parts of the affected parts of the district will never be cheaper than it is now.

"Building costs may never be as low as they are now and even more important than consideration of costs, the sites which will accommodate high schools are rapidly disappearing.

"One of our major problems is making the public aware of the problem," Dr. Ogden told the press.

Apparently No One

CARED MUCH

Trustees of the Sequoia High School District didn't assemble, in large numbers, to get a building program underway last Friday night as originally scheduled. But they weren't the only ones not present at the meeting.

Only non-school personnel present were newspaper reporters.

The agenda on which the district was to take action included discussion of a building program (see accompanying story) which might cost area taxpayers as much as $8,000,000 and be responsible for plants in which an entire generation of area children would receive high school education. But no taxpayers or parents, apparently, thought it was worth attending.

The meet is rescheduled for 8:30 p. m. Friday, Jan. 23, at the Sequoia high school library.

Soldier from Here Serves in France

FRANCE (Special)—Private Walter G. Traub Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W .G. Traub of 1765 Poppy avenue, Menlo Park, is serving with the European Command Communications zone in France, it was announced this week.

Pvt. Traub, a former student at San Jose State college, entered the army last April.

The communications section is responsible for transportation from French Atlantic ports to US occupation forces in Germany.

Bicyclist, 63, Hit In Atherton Crash

Pietro (Pete) Dorato, 63-year-old gardener who was struck Sunday evening in Atherton while riding his bicycle, is still undergoing treatment at Palo Alto hospital. According to the doctor, he will probably remain there through the week.

Dorato's accident happened while he was "wheeling" along Atherton avenue apparently with no red lights or no reflector visible on his vehicle.

William G. Moore Jr., 31, of Atherton, say police reports, was driving west along the same side of the road when the shape of Dorato's bicycle loomed up. Moore applied the brakes —but too late.

Atherton officers did not hold the auto operator, since, according to evidence, there was no negligence on his part.

Dorato, who is employed on the Dr. Hugh David Phillips' estate, was rushed to the hospital for multiple bruises and abrasions and probable back injury.

HAVE BABY BOY

A baby son, weighing 8 pounds, 5 ounces was born yesterday morning to Mr. and Mrs. George Hubbard, 45 Amherst street, Atherton. Scene of the birth was Palo Alto hospital.

Mrs. Hubbard is former office manager for the Recorder.

2 Students' Cars In Atherton Crash

Robert H. Jackson, 17-year-old Menlo Junior college student, was treated for minor injuries and dismissed from Palo Alto hospital Saturday evening following an automobile accident on El Camino Real at Spruce street in Atherton.

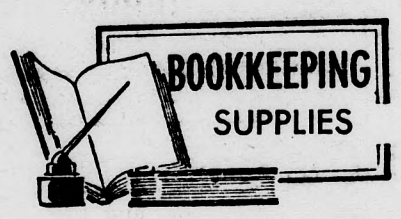

The collision occurred when Jackson struck a car driven by San Jose State college student Themics J. Condos in the rear. Condos had stopped to make a left turn, and, according to statements to the police, had his directional lights on.

Jackson evidently did not see the other vehicle until too late. Both cars had to be towed from the scene, but Condos was uninjured.

PLAN OPPONENTS MEET

A group of persons opposing the city's proposed master plan were to have held an informal meeting last night (after Recorder press time) in Leonard Bugna's residence, 1210 University drive. No definite agenda was set. according to spokesmen, since action by the group will depend upon the outcome of Jan. 27's council meeting.

NEW SCHOOL PROBLEM

We all knew our school system faced severe problems in the growing child population that will require more and more educational facilities during coming years.

But just how painful these growing pains were to be we did not know until last week, when we got the word on three independent surveys.

Each of the surveys come to the same conclusion: that if good educational standards are to be met, the high school district must build a new school every other year for the next 10 years.

In an area such as this, where one high school handled the load until the opening of Menlo-Atherton in the fall of 1951, such a prediction seems, at first glance, to be far out of line.

But study of the figures that developed the conclusions leads us to feel that, if anything, the predictions are conservative.

Based solely on the number of youngsters now in the first four grades of elementary school in the area—the youngsters who will be in high school nine years from now—we find there will then be 7390 high school students in the fall of 1961.

That is 3890 students more than the present rated capacity of Sequoia and Menlo-Atherton combined, and it does not allow for any continued growth of population in this area, an area that has grown 32 per cent since conclusion of the 1950 census.

We and every other taxpayer in the area are heartily sick and tired of one more bond issue after another. But a new one is in the wind now, to build the first of these additional high schools, and we can expect more bond measures to follow.

How to keep the cost as low as possible?

As a first step, we agree with Dr. Clyde Ogden, superintendent of the Sequoia district, that sites for all proposed schools be acquired as soon as possible. The land will never be cheaper than it is today.

Second, we urge the district trustees to consider adopting a master set of plans. We see no reason why district taxpayers should pay for planning that starts over again from scratch on each structure, when the basic design could be established and merely adapted to each new site.

Third, we urge the trustees to redouble their efforts to put all facilities to the fullest use and to eliminate unnecessary frills of design or planning.

Unless the trustees can prove to the people that every inch of our present schools is used to the utmost and that new structures will not contain unnecessary luxuries, they can look forward to repeated defeats on every future bond measure.

We all agree that our children must have good education, but if we don't have the money we won't get the schools, and the taxpayer's pocket has a bottom.

NO TIME TO LET UP

The Sequoia Chapter, American Red Cross, made a fine showing last year in contributing blood to the armed forces. But now, with the additional need for gamma globulin in treatment of polio, the demand has almost doubled.

Despite the greater need, tomorrow's visit of the bloodmobile to Menlo Park promises to fall far short of normal unless a minimum of 75 more donors sign up.

In the face of an increased call, we must not slow down. Call EMerson 6-3851 now for your appointment.

A HEARTY WELCOME

Menlo Park this week is welcoming some 130 new members of its business community.

They are the employees of the Pacific Department of the American Insurance Group, who Monday began operations in the new headquarters building on Middlefield road in the Linfield Oaks administrative zone.

Part of the nation-wide picture of decentralization, American Insurance moved to its new Menlo Park location for a variety of reasons.

Getting out of the crowded center of San Francisco, the company's employees wil find their days lengthened by an hour or two no longer spent in commuting.

The additional leisure time can be spent enjoying the pleasant life of a community that can boast an unexcelled climate.

Besides being pleasanter, the company's spacious, one-floor offices should prove easier to work in than a crowded, multi-floor operation in the heart of the city.

For our part, we say to every member of the staff of the American Insurance Group. "We hope you will be as glad you came as we are to have you with us."

Your City's Business:

Water Department Geared for Economical Working

By C. L. LONGSON
(City Manager, Menlo Park)

In all possible ways, the city's newly-activated water department is designed to bring the best possible service to its customers at the lowest possible cost.

With the problems of acquisition largely behind them the department's commissioners are looking forward to putting economical bookkeeping and maintenance practices into operation; these will be reflected in continuance of low water rates to consumers.

It is well to point out, at the outset, that the rates being paid by consumers in the former Willow Road Water District are the lowest of any charged within the city of Menlo Park. The maximum charge for average customers — those using up to 33,000 cubic feet of water—is $10.50 for customers of the Menlo Park city agency; customers of other water-deliverers in the city pay $11.11½ and $11.22 for the same amount of water.

With the idea of maintaining low rates such as these, the city has installed, for the benefit of consumers, a thoroughly modern bookkeeping system which, besides providing for quick and accurate billing, can be operated by one clerk.

Headquarters of the new city department is in the same office, in the civic center, as the building inspector's. This office was built by street and parks department workers as an "off-season" project, and the "extra space" provided at the time of construction was a wise economy. The department will not be charged for the use of these offices.

The water department will, similarly, have its "corner" of the city's public works shop; all mechanical work for all departments is done here and the elimination of the need for duplication of equipment pays dividends to taxpayers.

As in the case of the street and parks departments, workers may be shifted from one job to another as the need arises.

The water department is starting operation with one hired maintenance man; if there is little work for him to do, he will work with other city employees on projects throughout the city; should, say, a bad leak require the services of a crew of men, these will be available from the staffs of the other departments.

An accurate count of man-hours spent on water department projects will be kept. In this way, it will be possible to pay all water department maintenance costs out of water department funds, even if some maintenance work is done by members of the street and parks department crews.

From the former Willow Road Water District, the city is getting an inventory of equipment and office supplies on hand, and from this will be set up a series of accounts on which replacement or additions will be based.

Under this system, pieces of heavy equipment need not appear as a "lump sum" item in the department budget for one year; being "written off" gradually, the heavy equipment can be replaced with funds already allocated.

The city will get about $3000 from the old Willow Road agency, with which to start these accounts.

'Lame Duck' Session May Cost Money

San Mateo county's share of the $78,587,000,000 "lame duck" spending budget proposal for 1953-54, presented to congress by President Truman on Jan. 9, will reach about $168,111,000, at the $586.57 statewide average per capita for the 286,600 people in the county, California Taxpayers' association estimates.

For California as a whole, the proposed federal spending program —if it is not reduced by congress— will reach an estimated $6,939,232,000, at the statewide average of $586.57 per person for each of the state's 11,830,210 population.

9 MP Area Scouts Among 30 to Get Eagle Awards at County 'Scout-O-Rama' Feb. 7

When the San Mateo county Boy Scout council's annual "Scout-O-Rama" reaches its climax Saturday evening, Feb. 7, with a Court of Honor at which 30 county Scouts will receive Eagle rank, Menlo Park young men will receive more than their share of the awards.

Nine of the 30 who are eligible for the honor—Scouting's highest award—are members of Menlo Park troops and Explorer units. They include William H. Bull and Peter Kaldveer of Troop 107, sponsored by Menlo Park American Legion post 443; Martin Sullivan, William Regan III, Richard Nelson, John W. Spiker and Joseph Hayes, Troop and Explorer post 108, sponsored by Church of the Nativity and Jim Stanford and John Churchill, Explorer post 166, sponsored by Holy Trinity Episcopal church.

The number of scouts involved is the largest ever presented at one time by the San Mateo county council. Governor Earl Warren has been invited to make the presentation.

The awards cost, in all cases, years of work on the part of Scouts in three fields: Scouting spirit; scouting participation and crafts and skills.

Besides consulting troop records, Scout council officials have taken evidence of parents, teachers, employers and others who have known the Scout well before nominating individual Scouts.

NAME SCOUTS

The list of Menlo Park's young men who have achieved Eagle rank includes:

John W. Spiker, 28, Scoutmaster of Troop 108. Spiker resides at 2761 Spring street, Redwood City, and has been associated with the local troop for three years. Prior to that time, he was assistant scoutmaster of Troop 143 of Redwood City.

Employed by the county engineer's office, he resides with his wife and three small children: Paul, 5; Jeanne 1½ and Bill, two months.

Martin Sullivan, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Sullivan of 1235 Crane street. Martin is a student at Bellarmine prepatory school in San Jose, and is a graduate of St. Joseph's school here. He has been associated with the troop since graduating, three years ago, from Church of Nativity's Cub Pack 103, and is now an Explorer Scout and troop officer.

Joseph Hayes, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Hayes of 127 Almendral avenue, Atherton.

He is also a St. Joseph's graduate, attending Bellarmine. A Senior Patrol leader of 108, he has been a member of the organization for three years; previous to that, he was a Cub Scout in his family's former home city of Scarsdale, New York. His brother, Arthur Jr., was assistant Scoutmaster of 108 until last June.

Richard Nelson, son of Mr. and and Mrs. Arnold H. Nelson of 185 Selby lane, is also a member of Troop 108. He, too, is a graduate of St. Joseph's school and is now attending Bellarmine.

William Regan is the youngest of 108's members to achieve Eagle rank. Now 13, he is an eighth grade pupil at St. Joseph's school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Regan of 495 Ninth avenue, North Fair Oaks.

William Bull, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harding Bull of 1235 Santa Cruz avenue, is an eighth grade pupil at Hillview. Besides his scout work—he is a patrol leader with Troop 107 — he is active in school sports, carries a paper route, and maintains several hobbies including bird - watching, model airplane - building and art.

He has two small brothers.

Peter Kaldveer, also 14, is a pupil at Encinal school. A native of Estonia, he resides with his mother and grandparents at 1067 Marcussen drive.

Peter has a brother, 11, who is also a member of Troop 107.

James Stanford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric W. Stanford, 1760 Oak avenue. He is 14, and a student at Menlo-Atherton.

A member of Troop 166 before joining the Explorer post last year, he has an older brother who has also attained Eagle rank. The boys' father, when a Scout himself, was an Eagle also.

John Churchill, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Churchill of 475 Cotton street, is also a member of Explorer Post 166.

He will receive his award in absentia, since he is currently attending Rice institute in Houston, Tex., on an NROTC scholarship.

Now 18, he hase been active in Scouting here since his family moved to Menlo Park in 1948; before that time, he was a Cub Scout and Boy Scout in the family's former home city of White Plains, New York.

MP Cadet Among Stanford Awardees

Cadet Second Lieutenant Robert L. King of Menlo Park, one of 12 Stanford cadets who attended summer camp at McChord air force base near Tacoma, Washington, last summer, was to be with the group when it received the latter city's achievement award today.

The ceremony is scheduled to be held at 3 p. m. today at the Stanford university soccer field, or at Memorial hall in the event of rain.

The imposing 30-inch trophy to be presented to the 12-man team was won in competition, last summer, with cadets from eight other western universities and colleges. Mayor John H. Anderson of Tacoma leads the delegation making the award.

Down To Earth:

Now Is Time to Consider Ways of Making Life Easier for Your Home's Indoor Plants

By TERRY LEE

Every plant except one has been getting too much moisture.

The poor house plant!

It really suffers in the winter with the hot, dry air of the house and the chilly drafts of the night breeze. All house plants require a certain amount of attention, and this is a good week to do some indoor gardening.

If your plants are looking a little pale and tired, they probably need a repotting.

This means putting in fresh soil, taking out plants that are crowding each other, or putting a rapidly growing plant in a larger pot. If you want to cut back an extra long vine, trim the roots a bit, too.

BEST

An old-fashioned clay flower pot is the best container, but everyone seems to want something dressier. It works well to set a clay pot inside a fancy container, leaving enough room for air circulation. A layer of pebbles in the bottom of the container will keep the pot from sitting in drainage water.

If you are planting directly in a copper pot, the soil is all important.

Put a layer of sand, about an inch deep, at the bottom. The potting mixture should be equal parts of leaf mold, soil and sand, with a piece of charcoal added to keep it "sweet."

Repotting is usually done every year, but if a plant seems very happy, I leave well enough alone. I do add a tablespoon of liquid fertilizer and scratch the top of the soil with a fork.

House plants need a regular program of care, and probably the most overlooked duty is giving the leaves a monthly bath.

Plants breathe through their leaves, and will not thrive if the leaves are clogged with dust.

Take the pots to the kitchen and rinse both the top and underside of the leaves with lukewarm water.

Too cold water is a shock to the plant. Woolly-leaved plants, like the African violet, should be dusted lightly with a soft brush.

Never wipe leaves with oil of any kind to make them shine. Shiny leaves result naturally if good care is given.

Plants should be allowed to almost dry out before they are watered again. I find once a week is enough in my house, although this is influenced by the heat of the house, the container, the soil and the plant.

Water until the soil will no longer "drink" the excess from the surface. Never let water stand on the top of the soil, or the saucer underneath.

If you want some new house plants, pick the location first, then buy the plant to suit it. You can't make a sun-loving plant thrive in half-light. Consider the temperature, too. A tropical plant will freeze if left on a windowsill on a cold night.

FAVORITE

My favorite house plant is Philodrendron.

It is easy to grow, tolerates any house condition, endures lack of care, and actually prefers no sun. The common heart-shaped p. cordatum is only one of a large family that includes giants for the patio, leaves that are deeply cut, varigated, or dark green with a red underside.

The smaller vines look well combined with the spikey sanseveria. I also like to have a bowl of 10-cent store succulents dividing happily in a warm,dry spot.

I keep reading about red spiders and white flies attacking house plants, but have never seen one.

GARDEN CALENDAR
WEEK OF JAN. 22

This is no time to plant vegetable seeds, but it is time to plan your garden and order seeds. There were no new All-America awards for 1953, but the judges did vote twelve old ones as still leaders. They are:

1. Bush Lima, Fordhook 242.
2. Summer Squash, Early Prolific Straightneck.
3. Beet, Perfected Detroit.
4. Carrot, Imperator.
5. Radish, Cherry Belle.
6. Bush Snap Bean, Topcrop.
7. Cucumber, Early Surecrop Hybrid.
8. Spinach, America.
9. Tomato, Pritchard.
10. Head Lettuce, Great Lakes.
11. Sweetcorn, Iochief, Hybrid.
12. Cabbage, Chieftain Savoy.

* * * *

The plants that bring us spring flowers first are always treasured, and there are quite a few in bloom now.

One of the sweetest is daphne, a small bush liking partial shade and good drainage.

It has small pink flowers that are most fragrant.

Blooming now is the flowering quince, camellias and azaleas, heather and the glorious yellow acacia tree.

If you want an acacia tree, plant it where you can easily clean up its mess. It drops flowers, pods and some leaves.

If you have children, do plant a pussy willow bush—you can root one easily from a cutting from a friend's.

Area Scouts May Attend 'Jamboree'

Openings may still exist through which local Boy Scouts can attend the summer's coming National Jamboree at Santa Ana, Scout Council headquarters in Burlingame pointed out this week.

Though the local council's quota is full, Scouters pointed out, interested boys may be able to register as alternates, subject to attendance in provisional units of other bay area councils.

Meanwhile, the Feb. 6-7 Scout-O-Rama will have a "demonstration area," where equipment of the type to be used will be on display.

The Scout-O-Rama is the county council's own observance of Boy Scout week, and is presented at the Fiesta building in San Mateo.

IRENE DODD—YOUNG LADY GOING PLACES

In just a few years, she has advanced in the telephone business from student operator to assistant chief

In August, 1943, Irene Dodd came to work for Pacific Telephone as an inexperienced student operator. Since then, she's had several promotions—to operator in charge, supervising operator, and recently to her present position as assistant chief operator. This is a familiar telephone success story. For advancing our telephone men and women as their skill and experience grows is just one more way we work to make your telephone ever more efficient and valuable to you.

Every day is exciting for Mrs. Dodd who, like many telephone women, has combined marriage and her career. She enjoys keeping house as much as she enjoys helping people with their telephone calls. Gratifying, too, is the feeling that she is helping new people get ahead in the telephone world. It's all part of telephone tradition—a tradition of service which insures that a well-trained force of men and women stands behind the good telephone service you enjoy every day.

A good place to work

One reason why telephone jobs are good jobs is the fact that each year thousands of telephone men and women are promoted to more responsible positions in the hundreds of communities we serve locally here in the Pacific West. Their goal: to help keep your telephone service the finest in the world.

Southern Division PAL Fortunes at Stake as Bears Meet Vikes in Paly Tomorrow Eve

A throng of more than 1500 is anticipated to turn out for tomorrow night's Menlo-Atherton-Palo Alto doubleheader in the Vikings' gym. With first place in Southern division play at stake in both games as well as the natural rivalry between the schools, the Palo Alto Hi Boosters have nearly sold out the pavilion during the past week.

Palo Alto, with M-A transfer Blaine Huntsman sparking the attack, is just a step behind the Bears in SPAL play and Coach Mike Durkett is anxious to get his squad back on top. Durkett will probably open with Huntsman and Bill Gibson at forwards, Rich (Rinky) Babka at center, and Bob Hamlett and Bill Calloway at guards.

Bob Ayers will probably open with Dick Farman and Bob Elizondo at forwards, rapidly-improving Bill Wilkins at center, and Dick (Yogi) Jorgensen and either Pete Ciardella or Roger Staples at guards. Stan Jacobs, usually a starting guard, will not play.

The Bear Unlimiteds moved into undisputed possession of first place on Tuesday when they nosed out Willow Glen on Roger Staples' free throw with just six seconds remaining to play. The locals' victory, coupled with Palo Alto's 54-40 loss to Lincoln, turned the top spot over to the Bears.

B'S COLLAPSE

M-A's previously undefeated B's experienced a nearly complete collapse, however, and were beaten by their Willow Glen counterparts, 35-30. With Dick Brown and Tad Sato having off-days and Center Ed Crane's efficiency cut down by a bad cold, the Bruins turned in a very poor performance.

In a game that saw the score tied 10 times and the lead change hands on 16 different occasions, M-A had to stall off a Willow Glen rally and benefit by an official's decision to garner the victory.

Menlo-Atherton enjoyed a 33-26 halftime advantage, but Coach Larry Arnerich's Rams whittled it to 41-39 by the end of the third quarter and with less than a minute to play, they trailed by just one point, 52-51.

With 20 seconds remaining to play Center Eric Anderson, who netted 26 markers for the losers, was fouled underneath the bucket and awarded two foul shots. Anderson dropped in both, but Referee Ted Holmes ruled that a Willow Glen player had stepped into the free throw lane too soon and the second charity toss, which would have put the Rams ahead, was disallowed.

Then, with just six seconds remaining, Staples was fouled by Ram Jack Deckert and after rimming his first shot, swished the second for the M-A lead of 53-52.

The Bear lightweights were off right from the start and Willow Glen quickly built up a 10-2 lead. The Bruins started to hit fairly well, however, and reduced the margin to 12-7 at the end of the first period. Playing fairly consistent ball in the second quarter, Coach Ayers' quint overtook the Rams, 17-14, but the visitors closed fast and tied the score at 18-all at the half.

Coach Arnerich's lightweights went ahead by four points at the outset of the third quarter and kept that distance throughout nearly the entire second half, tallying twice in the final minute to wrap up the victory.

Dick Farman topped M-A with 15 markers in the Varsity tilt while Bill Wilkins meshed 12, but Anderson's 26 for the Rams gave him high honors for the day and also the league scoring lead with 56 points to Farman's runnerup 49.

Next week, MAHS' Varsity will play Burlingame in a practice game, Tuesday at 3:15 p. m. at Burgess gym, and Friday they will return to league play against San Jose there, at 7:30 p. m.

On Top, But:

Menlo-Atherton Varsity, 'B' Basketballers Keep Fans on Edge in Recent Performances

Going into Tuesday afternoon's Peninsula Athletic league games, Menlo-Atherton was dominating the Southern division picture in both Varsity and Class B play although Palo Alto rated with the Bears in the Unlimited standings.

The Northern division was controlled by co-favorites Burlingame and Jefferson in the Unlimited class while Capuchino had established itself as the team to beat in lightweight play.

In Tuesday's Southern division tussles, Menlo-Atherton was favored as Coach Bob Ayers' quints hosted Willow Glen while Mike Durkett's Paly cagers were likewise favored and likewise the home team. Their opponent was Lincoln. In the other game, favorite San Jose was slated to visit and vanquish Sequoia.

The lightweight competition seemed to indicate an easy triumph over San Jose for favorite Sequoia, with nip and tuck tilts slated between Paly and Lincoln and M-A and Willow Glen. The local schools were doped out as the winners, however.

If last week's games were a preview of things to come, Menlo-Atherton high school's basketball players and fans are in for a very nerve-racking season.

IN TOP SPOT

Coach Boy Ayers' quints put away a pair of double victories last week to move into the top spot in Peninsula Athletic league play, but the four decisions were won by a total of just 21 points, an average of about five markers per game.

The Bear Varsity thumped Lincoln by six points, 47-41, and edged Sequoia by just four points, 57-53, while the Bruin B's were squeeking past the Lions, 52-47, a five-point margin, and going one better against loop favorite Sequoia with a six-point margin of victory, 40-34.

The first twin bill was played before a near capacity crowd at Burgess gym while an overflow house at Sequoia's pavilion viewed the second pair of games.

Playing in the first game last Tuesday under the new PAL rules, M-A's Unlimiteds wasted little time in garnering a solid lead.

Although being out-rebounded by the Lines, Coach Ayers' crew proved deadly from the outside as Dick Farman and Bob Elizondo both contributed two set shots and a jump shot to give the Bears a 12-0 lead. Lincoln, unable to hit anything but foul shots, trailed 14-4 at he end of the first period.

The offenses of both squads began to mesh in the second quarter, but M-A increased their lead to 12 points, 32-20, and then increased it still another digit in the third stanza, leading by a 41-28 count at the outset of the final quarter.

In the fourth period, however, Lincoln's vaunted dead-eye, Bob Riordan, began to exhibit his markmanship and sparked a Lion rally that had the Bears plenty worried until a bucket and a free throw by Stan Jacobs in the final minute relieved the pressure.

CLOSE

Then Friday night, in a game that kept 1200 fans howling continually, neither team ever posted a lead of more than six points and nearly every bucket either knotted the score or changed hands with the lead.

The Bears came from six points behind in the initial period to knot the count at 13-13 and then took over a 27-25 advantage at halftime, which they increased to 42-39 at the end of the third period.

The final stanza, especially the final four minutes, was complete pandemonium as the score was tied again and again.

With just 40 seconds remaining, Roger Staples hooked in a layin for

'Teen Club Plans Election, Other Events

Election of officers, changes in the group's constitution, augmented facilities for their lounge and possible contests at future dances are all in store for members of the Menlo 'teen club.

The club, which sponsors regular Friday evening dances at Burgess park gym, is still open to new members, according to Publicity Chairman Terry Grindle, and membership ducats may be obtained at the door on the occasion of future Friday eve "rec nite" dances.

The election of officers is set to take place some time in February. Persons wishing to be considered for nomination to the group's executive board should leave their names at the rec department office, with Fred Parsons or Gayle Allinger, before the end of January, Miss Grindle said.

The new furniture to be added to the lounge includes a sofa and two end tables. These will augment the facilities in the mezzanine at Burgess gym, which is now open while dances are in progress.

Miss Grindle adds that other improvements will be a larger selection of refreshments which will be available to youths attending the weekly fetes.

SOME CHANGES

The new constitution will feature some changes, she said, such as change of the limitation on the hours during which 'teenagers leaving a dance can return to it. Formerly, those leaving after 9:30 p. m. could not reenter.

Dance contests are tentatively planned to include jitterbug and charleston competitions, but no dates for them have been set. They are to be held later this year.

Turning to the coming weekend's events, Miss Grindle said it is hoped that Clayton Graham's seven-piece band, composed of Menlo-Atherton high school students, will be able to provide the music.

Violinist to Play At University

Next presentation of the Stanford Concert series will feature Nathan Milstein, violinist, on Jan. 31, it was announced this week from concert offices on campus.

The worldwide-known musician, Russian-born and an American by adoption, is being presented under the auspices of the associated students of the university.

Tickets are available at the Nitery, Stanford union, or through the concert series office, old union building, DA 3-3870.

'Junkmen' Show Promise in 'Teen Casaba Circuit

Exhibiting astonishing accuracy, the Menlo Junkmen established themselves as the team to beat in Menlo Park Recreation 'Teen-Age basketball league play by completely obliterating the newly-formed Menlo Park Athletic Supporters 113-35 in a tune-up game at Burgess park gym Monday evening.

Making good use of their six-inch-to-the-man height advantage, the vet - undefeated Junkmen tuned themselves up in the first half and established a 45-12 intermission lead. Turning on the offensive power in the second half, they outscored the Supporters 68-23 to post a 78-point margin of victory.

Although the Junkmen's starting lineup boasts four men that top six feet, little Mario Generelli, far shorter than the 72-inch mark, topped both teams with 41 points. Pat Melvin had 26 for the winners while Ralph Strong dropped in 18 and Dick Wegner and Ed Reynolds each scored 12. Bill Schaeffer potted an even dozen to head the losers.

Although several marks would have been replaced, the contest was listed as a scrimmage and no new Burgess gym records have been set.

It marked the Junkmen's third triumph. Their other victories included a 50-32 decision over the LDS Explorers in a game called short due to time limitations on the use of the gym and a 59-54 squeeker over the North Fair Oaks Panthers.

Generelli's quint is entered in the Menlo Park loop and the Athletic Supporters have also filed for entrance. It was the latter's first game.

Other teams that may join the new loop include the Menlo Rams, the East Palo Alto Athletic club Pelicans, the LDS Explorers and the North Fair Oaks Panthers.

'Teen league will open play Saturday with Stansfield's team vying with the Menlo Rams at 1 p. m.; 2 p. m., Menlo Junkmen vs. Menlo Park Athletic Supporters and at 3 p. m., EPAAC Pelicans vs. North Fair Oaks Panthers. All games at Burgess gym.

Donald Morey Wins Prize in Contest

Donald Morey, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Morey of 1313 Crane street, was recently awarded second prize for his suggestion of a name for a religious art book and gifts shop which will soon open in Menlo Park.

Participating in the contest were pupils at Palo Alto, Menlo Park and Redwood City parochial schools.

Winner was Joseph Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherbourne Klein of Redwood City. He suggested the name, "The Angelus," for the new firm.

Donald, the second-place winner, is a pupil at St. Joseph's school

Peninsula Building Materials is now the official first half champion in 1952-3 Menlo Park Adult Recreation basketball league play.

First half play was officially ended last Wednesday with Menlo Motors pulling away in the final two minutes to garner a low scoring 34-23 decision over cellar-dwelling Welte's "B" of South San Francisco.

Peninsula had cinched the title Tuesday evening, however, as the league's top scorer, Ron Bush, swished a pair of free throws with just two seconds remaining on the scoreboard clock to give the champs a 40-38 decision over the loop's top scoring team, Preuss Pharmacy.

Jr. Hi-Y Presents 'Progress Report'; Invites New Members

Sequoia district YMCA this week issued a "progress report" on activity of their new Junior Hi-Y club for the Menlo Park area, and extended an invitation to all seventh and eighth grade age boys in the area to join.

O. H. Olson, vice chairman of the district YMCA's board of directors, is serving as chairman of the committee in charge of formation of the clubs.

The Menlo Park Junior Hi-Y is led by Clarence (Bud) Doxsee, and meets Wednesday evenings at 7 p. m. at Fremont school.

Activities thus far undertaken, mostly during the last few months of 1952, include:

1. Enjoyed an evening hike-out and "wienie" roast. This was planned in meeting and the boys pooled their money and did their own purchasing of the food.

2. This group combined with two other clubs and took a recreational trip to the San Jose YMCA, where they enjoyed indoor swimming, volleyball, basketball and trampoline.

3. As a service project, the boys cut up seven army tow targets, the materials being returned to the Letterman hospital occupational therapy department.

a 55-51 M-A advantage, but Milo Radulovitch narrowed the count to 55-53 with a jump shot to set the scene for Billi Wilkins' jump shot from the side for a 57-53 Bear lead with less than five seconds on the clock.

M-A's B's had a rough time of it on Tuesday, although leading by quarter scores of 13-12, 27-21, and 40-35; the game was often tied or the lead threatened. Lincoln knotted the count at 45-all before Sophomore Bob Adams slipped in for a layup and a 47-45 M-A lead.

TIES SCORE

Lincoln knotted the score again and then Ed Crane was fouled and awarded two shots. He missed both, but Dick Brown tipped in the second for 49-47.

Lincoln missed a shot and Adams was fouled bringing the ball down court. He swished the first shot for 50-47 but missed the second, which Crane followed up beautifully to give the Bears a 52-47 lead with just seconds left.

Two swishers from the corner and a jump shot by Don Nakanishi plus a free throw by Ed Crane put M-A quickly ahead of Sequoia, 7-2, Friday and the Cherokees of Ray Dimick never quite recovered.

M-A lead by a 21-11 count at the intermission and though the losers narrowed the margin to three points in the final quarter, free throws by Tad Sato, Nakanishi and Brown and a jump shot by Bob Mathis iced the game.

Farman, as last year, paced the Varsity. Dick tallied 14 markers in the Lincoln game without much effort and then went to town against Sequoia with 20 points to move him into a tie with Palo Alto's Bab Hamlett for the league's scoring leadership with 34 markers. Bill Wilkins followed with a 21-point total, 16 of them against Sequoia.

Most significant aspect of Farman's performance is his eight of nine record from the foul line.

Dick Brown, with 19 markers against Lincoln and 12 in the Sequoia game, also paces the PAL's Southern division with 31 points. Ed Crane has 19.

The Southern Division standings as of Monday were:

Diamonds, Dinette Sets Sell Quickly, Users of New Want Ad Section Find

A $1200 diamond ring and a dinette set were among the items sold through 75-cent classified advertisements last week in the new combination Want Ad section of the Menlo Park Recorder and the Menlo Park Mid-Peninsula Buy Word.

"I had such wonderful results," said Mrs. W. W. Nelson, 1065 Middle avenue, who offered a gray chrome dinette set for sale. "I sold the set in less than two hours after your paper came out last Thursday.

"Telephone calls came all morning Thursday, and more on Friday and Saturday. I'm still getting calls this week," she continued.

George E. Honold, 825 El Camino Real, who advertised "At a sacrifice, man's diamond ring. Approx. 3½ carats, $1200," declared that he received six or seven calls in response to the advertisement and sold it quickly.

An East Palo Alto ironing service termed results from a classified advertisement "terrific," with many telephone calls and other persons walking into her establishment with dresses to be ironed.

The new Want Ad section, offering almost complete coverage of the Menlo Park, Atherton and Woodside areas, runs both in the Menlo Park Recorder, with paid circulation of approximately 2000, and in the Buy Word, with its additional coverage of approximately 10,000 more homes.

The new combined service is offered at one rate primarily for the benefit of area residents who wish to buy or sell used equipment or who are seeking employment or help.

For information, call DAvenport 3-6118 and ask for Mrs. Banks.

Persons interested in the course may register in the Menlo-Atherton adult school office.

'Bloodmobile' Sets Call Here Friday

Sequoia chapter, American Red Cross' "Bloodmobile" will be back in action for the armed forces Friday, calling at the Menlo Park civic center to collect blood from local donors.

The facility will be here from 8 a. m. to 12 noon.

"All blood collected is for defense use," Mrs. Norman White, blood donations chairman, explains. "Some is to be sent directly to Korea, as whole blood; some will be processed as plasma for stockpiles in this country and some will be converted into gamma globulin supplies."

The gamma globulin supply program, announced last week, means a doubling of the Sequoia chapter's quota.

Persons wishing to make donations here Friday, or desiring further information, should call chapter headquarters in Redwood City, EM 6-3851.

The Veterans' Guide

Vets, Dependents Should Check Possible Benefits

A reference list of the benefits provided by the federal government to surviving dependents of servicemen who have died in the Korean conflict was issued today by Floyd D. Granger, veterans service officer of San Mateo county, with the suggestion that it be checked for benefits not yet applied for or received.

Many of the benefits are automatically issued to eligible survivors of Korea servicemen, Granger said, but some are occasionally overlooked and others must be applied for by the next of kin.

In all cases, the service officer added, assistance and further information is available at the veterans service office, 517 Marshall street, Redwood City.

Granger listed these among the principal benefits provided for surviving dependents of Korea servicemen:

Monthly compensation for widows and children, and monthly pension payments for parents who were dependent on the serviceman.

A lump-sum gratuity, equal to the serviceman's pay for six months, and payable to the next of kin; also, all accrued pay and allowances credited to the serviceman at the time of his death.

Government life insurance or indemnity benefits of $10,000, payable according to the type of coverage carried by the serviceman.

Federal old-age and survivors' benefits, which may be credited to the serviceman even if he was not covered by social security in his preservice employment. Granger explained that social security credits are now awarded to servicemen for all their time in the armed forces since Sept. 16, 1940.

Ten points preference for widows and widowed mothers who apply for U. S. civil service employment.

Scouts Get Help Offer For 'Transportation'

Cub Scout units of the Menlo Park area may have an opportunity to learn more about air travel, the San Mateo county Boy Scout council announces, with announcement that an air line will aid such units with transportation projects.

The air line, United, has informed the scout council of its willingness to provide speakers, motion pictures or educational literature on the subject of "transportation."

Cub Scout Den Mothers whose units are working on such projects are urged to contact the air line's school and college representative, William D. Hecht, at YUkon 6-0813 in San Francisco for further information.

Work Still Remains:

Education, Fellowship Units of Community Church in EPA Dedicated with Sunday Rites

By DOROTHY WILLIAMS

After more than three years of work, the members and friends of the East Palo Alto Community church joined Sunday in Dedication day services in their new building, and celebration of the completion of the fellowship and education units.

Several distinguished visiting ministers participated in the services which were presided over by the church's pastor, the Rev. Donald F. Lehmann.

Morning service guest speakers were the Rev. G. Milton Towle, member of the EPA Community church, Chaplain Edwards, and Dr. Francis Russell.

The afternoon service featured the Rev. Ralph Benson, the Rev. Edwin Gillman, the Rev. Vernon Thomas, president of the Palo Alto Ministerial association, the Rev. Don L. Nickerson, the Rev. W. T. Gaston, the Rev. Ray Stedman and the Rev. William Pickthorn.

A program of selected sacred music was presented at the evening service.

The congregation gathered in the recently completed Fellowship hall which seats 300 persons. A large walled partition separates it from the sanctuary, which is the only single large portion of the church still requiring a great deal of work.

Three hundred and seventy children turned out for their first Sunday school session to be held in the new church building.

MANY ROOMS

In the educational unit, which encloses an open-air inner court, there is a nursery room, junior-department room, beginners' room, primary - department room and nine other classrooms which will accommodate age groups ranging from four years to high-school age.

Among the rooms that are almost ready for use are the pastor's office, church office, Sunday school office, kitchen, parlor and nursery. Several of these will be equipped with sliding partitions to divide them off into additional classrooms if the need arises.

Although most of the work was done by community volunteer labor, in some cases the church had to call upon private businesses for specialized material and work. With such items as glass, plumbing, outside framing, some cement work, heating, ventilating, and some contract work, the concerns called upon gave their services with only material charges.

Those who comprise the building committee for the church are: Donald Bell, chairman, Vernon Lind, Carroll Da Mant, Paul Crapuchettes, Burnett Dirks, Clarence Lind and Robert Leeman.

The new church is located on the corner of Univeristy avenue and Bell street and is the largest church in its area.

50th Anniversary At Memorial Church

Fiftieth anniversary of the dedication of Stanford's Memorial church will be signalized Sunday, with a series of special events scheduled through the day. The public is invited to all events.

The regular 11 a. m. morning worship service will have a special anniversary theme,

Court Defers Action on 3 Atherton Cases

Three Atherton police cases, two involving drunken driving and one, a hit-and-run case, were postponed Tuesday by Municipal Judge Edward I. McAuliffe. The cases will be heard next Tuesday afternoon Jan. 27.

One of the arrests by Atherton police was that of a Palo Alto couple, Victoria and Marshall Hanrahan, who were stopped Jan. 14 for driving while drunk. Mrs. Hanrahan was at the wheel of the car—which was spotted while zigzagging — and her husband was next to her, allegedly under the influence of alcohol, according to officers.

On Jan. 17 George C. Coburn, 33-year-old Palo Alto motorist, was driving north along El Camino Real on the wrong side of the highway. A second motorist, Harold C. Von Drehle, was driving on the right side of the highway in the same direction.

Von Drehle, just noticing the car approaching him, tried to avoid it and was too late. The vehicles hit head-on, had to be towed from the scene, but left both drivers unhurt. Coburn was booked for reckless and drunken driving.

The final case on continuance concerns John P. Harrington, Chestnut street, Menlo Park, who struck a car Jan. 9 while turning out of Ravenswood avenue onto Middlefield road.

Harrington drove away, but a witness noted his license number and forwarded it to Atherton police. The address was in San Francisco, but officers continued until they tracked the alleged hit-and-runner to his local residence.

The car damaged was driven by Samuel F. Paris of Woodside; injury to the vehicle included a smashed left rear corner.

Charter Reviews

More reviews of charters of Scout units of the Live Oak District, San Mateo county Boy Scout council, are to be held next Monday, Jan. 26, at Central school here.

St. Joseph's Gets Safety Pennant

A green safety pennant now flies on the flagpole at St. Joseph's school in Atherton.

The pennant was bestowed upon St. Joseph's in a 10:45 a. m. assembly held at the school yesterday. James G. Black, executive secretary for the county traffic safety commission, awarded the green flag to the four eighth grade boys with highest traffic standing.

The recipients included Bill Regan, Bob Morey, Jack Skrabo and Michael Demeter.

During the 15-minute ceremony, which was repeated in a girls' assembly, Atherton Chief of Police Leroy Hubbard gave an address on safety and the meaning of the green pennant.

In actuality, the flag, while flying, denotes no accidents to any of the youngsters attending the school. When a mishap does occur, the pennant goes down and stays down until (1) a student body assembly hears a safety talk regarding the accident or (2) 30 days elapse.

Menlo School Mothers Club Prepares Feb. 5 Style Show

Menlo School commons will be the site February 5 for one of the very first spring fashion shows to be presented in this area. The show will feature apparel from the Howard Greer collection, as well as Greer's models — "starring", of course, his pet, Gerry Cameron.

The event, sponsored by the Mothers club of Menlo school, will be given at 2 p. m. Reservations may be made through Mrs. John Hancock, 4 Odell Place, Atherton, DA 2-2546; or through Mrs. Richard C. Johnston Jr., 42 Flood circle, Atherton, DA 5-2644.

Moneys raised will provide murals for the school dining room; will complete the manual training shop; will add reference books and material for the library and will augment the Mothers club scholarship fund.

This is to be the only Peninsula Spring showing of Howard Greer's creations. Dresses to be modelled will feature the couturier's special touches, such as make-believe tape measures across bodice, waist and hipline, unique warm-weather prints and splendid cabbage roses "planted" amongst decollete.

Fashion show committee heads include Mrs. Johnston Jr., invitations and tickets; Mrs. Hancock, finance; Mrs. Philip FitzGerald, decorations; Mrs. Leland M. Kaiser, property; Mrs. Frederick Sherman, publicity and Mrs. Clarence M. Young, president of the Mothers' club.

Mrs. Harry J. Boyle is in charge of the refreshments, and will be assisted in serving them by girls from Castilleja.

Mrs. Furber Libby Elected Auxiliary Leader for 1953

Brigham Jr., member-at-large; Mrs. Thomas McClaren, membership chairman; Mrs. Richard Ettinger, files; Mrs. Clyde F. Devine, publicity and Mrs. Francis North, publicity coordinator.

Also on the Friday agenda was discussion of plans for a February 27 dinner dance at the Los Altos country club to celebrate the Christmas season success of the Allied Arts Guild, which is staffed by auxiliary members.

Mrs. Franz Grundemann of Menlo Park was installed Monday night as president of the Peninsula chapter of the Gold Star Mothers. Ceremonies were held in Menlo Park's city council chambers.

Educators, Alumni on Sequoia P-TA Panel

Four educators—two of them from Menlo Park—and two Sequoia high school alumni participated in a panel discussion round table for the January meeting of Sequoia P-TA. Theme of the meeting was "To What is Your Child Exposed in the Modern High School", while the panel topic was "Trends in High School Curriculum".

Menlo Park educators were Dr. William James Iverson, assistant professor of education at Stanford university, and Dr. James A. Saum, consultant guidance of San Mateo county School department.

'Rumpelstiltskin':

Tickets Sell For Saturday Performance

Today, tomorrow and next week are the last times available for purchase of tickets to "Rumpelstiltskin", Peninsula Children's Theater association presentation. The fairy tale play will be given this Saturday at 1 p. m. and at 3 p. m. in Sequoia high school auditorium, and again on Saturday, January 31, at the same time in the same place.

Bids for the matinee performances may be secured in the following Menlo Park stores, or may be obtained by contacting Mrs. William Bancroft, 99 Moulton drive, Atherton, DA 2-5727:

Mrs. Miner's bakery, Shreve and Burgess, Browning's Ltd.

The children's production, an adaption from Grimm's fairy tale, proved a sell-out when given in the Burlingame high school auditorium. It features lovely costumes, interesting lighting effects and gay tunes, not to mention a scene where the beautiful heroine spins gold from straw.

The cast comprises actors from San Francisco's Studio Players, featuring the head, Jules Irving, who wrote the script, the song lyrics and is taking the male lead of Rumpelstiltskin, a wicked dwarf.

Among local Children's Theater association members working on the production are Mrs. William Wallace Mein Jr., Mrs. Henry McMicking, Mrs. James Mack, Mrs. W. G. McLelland Jr., Mrs. Melvin Savage Jr. and Mrs. Richard Gonzales.

Oak Knoll:

HUNTS RUMMAGE

To be featured at last night's Oak Knoll P-TA meeting was the presentation of a camellia bush to some parent donating rummage for the parent-teacher association sale February 5 and 6.

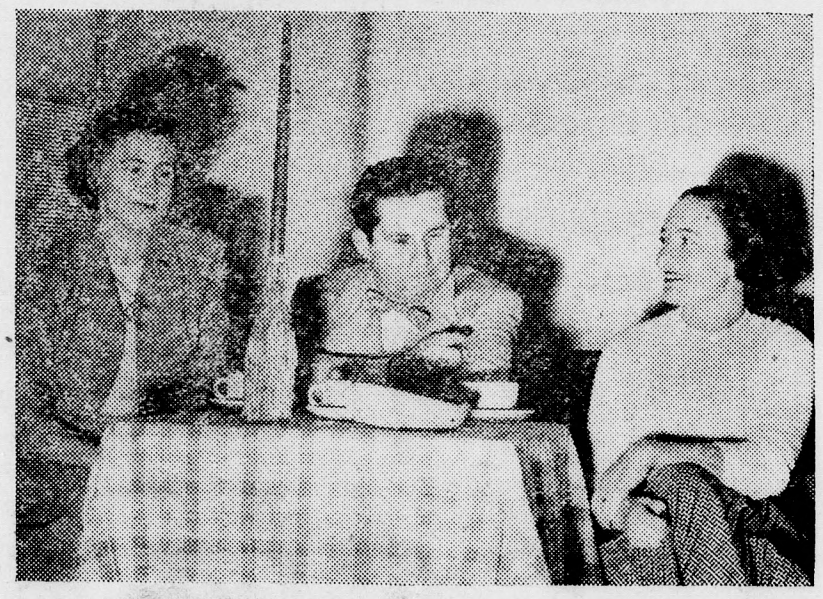

Workers on the rummage event are not stopping there, however. They urge anyone interested in supplying items for the sale to contact Mrs. Ellis Lea at DA 2-1604 for pick-up or to deposit things at the William Felts residence on Oakdell drive.

Committee for the fundraiser (moneys will go toward purchase of an Encyclopedia Britannica set for the school) includes Mrs. R. L. Felts and Mrs. Calvin D. Yaggy, co-chairman, assisted by the following:

Mrs. R. C. Stendell, Mrs. Nancy Edwards, Mrs. J. B. Abney, Mrs. B. Yost, Mrs. G. D. Bradner, Mrs Tom Leigh, Mrs. Peter V. Milward, Mrs. Ralph M. Weinrichter, Mrs. Blair Barnitz and Mrs. James Lee.

FEB. 1 is the deadline for donors' signing up for the MP Elementary School District's blood bank.

PLOTTING THE PARTY

M-A P-TA's "CABARET" is the topic of discussion for (left to right) Mrs. John Cook, Stanley Dorfer, faculty member, and Mrs. Leo Varty. Saturday's affair, from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m., will be held in the multi-purpose room of the school, and will feature tables placed so that guests can chit-chat or watch the folk dancing exhibition by a Palo Alto group. Sponsors of each class (Mrs. Leo Roselyn, Mrs. Howard Williams, Mrs. William Mixter and Mrs. Donald Newport) will be on hand to greet the comers, and Ray Minaker of Las Lomitas will be available for calling easy squares for guest- dancers. Heading the party is Mrs. Howard Williams, who observes that the main purpose of the affair is for parents to get together and know each other better . . . to which end, all eighth grade parents, too, are cordially invited to come.

Ruth Ann Lauderdale of MP Becomes Mrs. Fred Turner Jr.

Spring color and spring lilies predominated Sunday at the wedding of Ruth Ann Lauderdale of Menlo Park to Fred Turner Jr. of San Mateo. The ceremony was held at 5 p. m. in the Church of the Nativity.

A bouffant ballerina-length gown of nylon lace over satin was worn by the bride for her marriage. The dress was styled with a tiny lace Peter Pan collar, four lace insets in the full skirt and a lace bodice with shoulders of net.

A braided crown studded with seed pearls held in place the fingertip bridal veil, and a prayer book laid over with orchids and stephanotis was carried in lieu of a full bouquet.

Thelma Forest preceded the bride as maid-of-honor. She wore a ballerina frock of turquoise nylon net over satin; her bouquet, headpiece and slippers were of contrasting pale yellow.

As best man for the ceremony, Fred, who is the son of the senior Fred Turners of San Mateo, had Ron Lewis; ushers were Charles Lauderdale, one of the bride's brothers, and James Hancock.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lauderdale of Menlo Park, had donned a blue lace afternoon dress with white gloves, hat and stole and blue shoes. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in champagne hammered satin. Both ladies wore lavendar orchid corsages.

A late evening reception following the wedding was held at the Marie Antoinette hotel, from where the newlyweds departed for their one week honeymoon in a Yosemite skiing lodge. The bride's going-away ensemble comprised a dressmaker gray suit sparked with red accessories.

When they return from their wedding trip, the new Mr. and Mrs. Turner will make their temporary home in Redwood City, pending the completion of their Mountain View house.

Belle Haven Hears Talk

Marston Girard, assistant professor of health education at Stanford university, spoke on "Promoting Health of Schoolchildren in Santa Clara and San Mateo counties" last night at the Belle Haven P-TA meeting, held in the school's new multi-purpose room.

Girard reviewed the work done in San Mateo health curriculum for elementary schools by the county school office, and stressed a survey book entitled, "Health Instruction in San Mateo County Elementary Schools".

Regarding the above book, which deals with student problems and parent, teacher and student interest in health, the Stanford instructor said, "I consider this the most extensive work done on the subject to date".

Girard was introduced by Mrs. Edward L. Gray, vice president, who also introduced Miss Ruth Jones, the school nurse.

Preceding the evening's talk, students from James Marsh's sixth grade presented a playlet called "Piffle, It's Only A Sniffle", which demonstrated what happens in class rooms when a child is sent to school with a cold.

The cast included James Sievert, Tracy Nelson, Karen Stewart, David Mace, Kay Mullen, Philip Kirschner, Cathy Bailey, Marian Cardwell, Janelle Ojerholm, Roosevelt Jones and David Driscoll.

Second grade room mothers, chaired by Mrs. John Perez, served the refreshments.

PROSPECTIVES

Names of prospective members to the M-A branch AAUW should be sent to Mrs. Hilton Large, membership chairman, DA 2-4072. College attended should accompany name of applicant.

BPW Plan Monday Dinner Meeting

Next date for Menlo Park Business and Professional Women to circle is that of Tuesday, January 27. At that time a dinner meeting, preceded by a 6:30 p. m. cocktail hour, is scheduled for Longbarn restaurant.

Mrs. Iris A. Von Vleck, district health and safety chairman, will be the guest speaker. Dinner arrangements are under the supervision of Catherine T. Maher.

Still in the wind for the BPW is the rummage sale—date as yet undecided. Members, however, have been requested to save their odds and ends and to plan upon wider participation in the fundraiser.

"Youngsters' Independence" Is Gist of Ravenswood P-TA Talk

Members of the Ravenswood P-TA were treated last week to an interesting talk by Dr. Charlotte Roden on the topics of children, responsibilities and independence.

Using her own family as an example, Dr. Roden explained that her son was allowed to leave the house without stating where he was going, so long as he returned before a deadline. Punishment befitting irresponsibility was "beaching" for a time (a Navy family term denoting: "You have to stay home").

Describing why she feels children are tending toward more dependency, Dr. Roden explained that our nation is fast becoming one of elderly persons, due to prolonged living rate and due to decline in infant death.

Because of the extended old-age, Dr. Roden said, children are kept in school more to help ease labor and professional market overflow in jobs. Since youngsters are apt to be at home or at school longer, Dr. Roden continued, parents should try to give them more responsibility coupled with more independence.

During the general P-TA business meeting, Mrs. Sidney Goodnow was appointed chairman of the life membership committee; Mrs. Carolyn Greene was named to represent the faculty; and Mrs. Frank Reece selected as outside-P-TA member.

Life membership is based upon community service to benefit children, and is accompanied by $25 from the local P-TA to the state CCPT scholarship fund.

A report was given at the session on a series of progressive lunches to augment Ravenswood's treasury; other fundraisers discussed were a family auction and a joint P-TA salvage drive.

Bracescos of MP Have Anniversary

A house filled with golden yellow flowers provided the fragrant backdrop Sunday for the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Bracesco's Golden Wedding Anniversary.

The Bracescos observed their fiftieth wedding date by opening their 851 Valparaiso avenue home to approximately 75 old friends, some from as far away as Santa Cruz and Boulder Creek.

The celebrants were married in 1903 in Columbus, Ohio, Mrs. Bracesco's native city. Six months later, the couple moved to Menlo Park where Mr. Bracesco had been born and reared.

Mr. Bracesco's father, John Bracesco, was one of the pioneers of this area, having come from Italy at the age of 18 to San Francisco, and 10 months hence to Menlo Park (in the year 1868). When the elder Mr. Bracesco died in 1938 at the age of 91, it was the passing of an era in this locality.

The Bracescos now here can recall such things as when the "Climate Best by Government Test" sign graced Santa Cruz avenue as the result of a survey held during World War I—the time that Camp Fremont was located here.

Among other things that the Bracescos look back on is their first home in Menlo Park, which, they say, stood nearly alone on the corner of Valparaiso avenue and Alameda de las Pulgas as the first in the area.

Local Tri Delts Meet Wednesday

Local alumnae of Delta Delta Delta alliance will gather at 8 p. m. next Wednesday, January 28, in the 170 Green Oaks home of Mrs. Thomas Erennen, Atherton.

By MELINDA PERCY DA 3-9972

The birthday of Carol Mason was the occasion of a party given by the birthday girl at her home last weekend.

The girls played "Share a Charade", had refreshments, and saw movies shown by Sam Peterson and Gene Wilson.

The guest list included Nancy Achziger, Shirley Bothwell, Eleanor Brown, Bonnie Clark, Carolyn Colby, Sara Cunningham, Patsy Franklin, Mimi Gamero, Georgia Grimm, Carol Hill, Barbara Hinds, Barbara Jasmer, Marilyn Kelley, Jean MacIntyre, Ann Peterson, Donna Newson and Janice Zimmerman.

Local church news of the week: The Christian Endeavor Society of the EPA Community church elected new officers at their meeting Sunday night.

Those selected to serve for the year include president, Ron Netsell; vice president, Melinda Percy; and secretary - treasurer, Janet Lindeman.

The Westminster Fellowship of the MP Precbyterian church also were busy electing new leaders last week, as they put into office the following young people:

"Happy Birthday to you! Happy Birthday, Lynn and King! Happy Birthday to you!"

This song could be heard at the home of Lynn Williamson last Saturday evening as Barbara Clark brought in a lighted cake for King Graham and Lynn at a surprise birthday party for them.

As some of the teenagers were dancing around the lighted pool outside, Pete Brock was seen to appear in an outlandish costume, which only the Commissioner of School Spirit could think up—it consisted of a girl's bathing suit, water fins and a bathing cap!

Sitting around and listening to Page Godbe, Lynn and King play the uke, and watching Berkeley Johnston, Beth Richards, Glenda Spear and Don McLean charlestoning were Sue Stolp, Barbara Clark, Rick Davidson, Dan Varty, Marilyn Menzin, Dave Easley, Mardy Keyes and Dick Lewis.

Another surprise party also took place this weekend, and we heard it was also lots of fun and a complete surprise to the birthday fellow, this time.

Bob Golobic was the recipient of the party, and was presented with a novelty gray gaucho as a joint gift from his friends.

Guests at this "very successful" party included Sue Leusley, Dick Farman, Nancy Brooks, Don Lambert, Bethy Mosher, Jack Horder, Judy Knudsen, Dave Larson, Louise Starkey, Bob Ferguson, Betty Anderson, Bob Cole, Susan Cook, Dick Jorgenson and Nancy Roselyn.

Better late then never, we say! We just heard that Roxie Rasey, lately of M-A but now of U of Cal., gave a New Year's Eve party with Lynne Osmond for "a few of the old crowd".

There was so much gaiety that Roxie reports they still haven't got all the confetti out of the house—

Plans are now underway for the Junior class play and oleo to be given next month. Student directors include Diane Wickstrom, Berkeley Johnston and Steve Graham, while Zale Travis is the technical director.

Students in the play include Bruce McAllister, Rosalie Abreu, Mary Livingston, Adrian Joseph, Ken Whitcomb, Carla Jones, Howard White and Sandy Holmquist.

GARDEN CLUB of Menlo Park will meet next Tuesday, January 27, at 8 p. m. in the Yellow room of the city council building. Program will comprise a California Spray chemical company movie on "How to Grow Beautiful Roses" and "How to Grow Beautiful Fuschias".

MP Women Produce Unusual Blooms

From the windswept hills of Formosa, the "Aralia Papyrifera" has been variously cured, cut, shaved and shipped, dyed and "restored", and finally arrived in Menlo Park.

The plant with the long botanical nomer gives a form of wood fiber used in making make-believe flowers. Menlo Park hobbyists deeply interested in these "blooms" are Mrs. Ella McManus and Mrs. Hazel Gomes, Partridge avenue neighbors.

First interest in the manufacture of fiber flowers was set off when the two women joined a California extension class. When the courses were completed, Mrs. Gomes and Mrs. McManus kept up their studies, and during the summer traveled to a Los Angeles suburb to learn the finishing touches of the new-old art.

Kept a secret for hundreds of years by the Chinese, the art of creating flowers from wood fiber was "captured" in 1859 by the occidentals.

The plant, "aralia papyrifera", normally grows to about ten feet, with a stem diameter of from three to four inches. The pith in the center of the stem is cured, then cut into short lengths, then set, then shaved into amazingly standarized ribbons. The sheets of ribbon are pressed, cut to proper sizes and shipped to the US—all work in the Orient having been done manually by age-old traditional methods.

When the fiber arrives here, it is very brittle and dead white in appearance—dye is applied in American factories, followed by a special bath to restore natural oils.

The woodfiber sheets from which make-believe flowers are finally constructed feel and look almost exactly like the growing thing—they even absorb moisture and need forms of "watering" as do real blooms.

Mrs. McManus' and Mrs. Gomes' creations reflect their imagination and deftness, which they would enthustically pass on to anyone who wants to learn.

Upon entering the McManus home the visitor is confronted with leis, floral pieces, corsages, bracelets, separate blooms of red, pink, blue, white, gold—in fact, anything and everything . . . wonderful to behold for persons with hay fever, who must usually stand at a good distance to admire certain forms of nature.

Just to demonstrate the versatility of the fiber flowers, the Partridge avenue neighbors pointed out first a winter table piece featuring poinsettias (or red carnations) and greens, pinpointed with sparkling gold centers.

On the other side, was a very clever spring bridal shower arrangement, comprising a yellow tulle umbrella tied with tiny clusters of fiber cornflowers. Nosegays looking almost alive and dainty fruit blossom-trimmed hair clasps were also much in sight.

Mrs. Gomes and Mrs. McManus have had another hobby inspiration — for themselves and for anyone who likes to create things, flower-covered bonnets for the Easter "parade".

Both of the women joined in an open invitation to interested persons of Menlo Park and surrounding area: to come in and visit them at 620 Partridge avenue.

Pupils' Roundtable Highlights Tuesday Brentwood Meeting

Tuesday night at the Brentwood P-TA meeting a panel of pupils from Mrs. Lois Lind's sixth grade discussed what makes an ideal parent.

Those joining in on the round table were Lynn Vandervoort, Michael Winters, Judy Clayton, Nancy Kambietz, Carol Jones, Gail Culver, Virginia Ward and Jo Ann Hiatt.

During the business session the P-TA voted to take part in the February 3 "March of Mothers" torchlight parade, destined to aid the Infantile Paralysis drive. Mrs. Jerry McClain will head the venture.

Also under discussion was a barn dance, scheduled for March 14, and a report on progress to secure a red-rock pathway along O'Conner street.

Knights of Pythias, Sisters to Install

Joint installation ceremonies tonight, January 22, will be held by the Palo Alto lodge 209 Knights of Pythias and Palo Alto temple 70 Pythian Sisters. The ceremonies will begin at 8:30 p. m. in the recreation annex of the First Methodist church at Hamilton avenue and Webster street.

Local members of the organization and its auxiliary are also invited to attend the preceding 7 p. m. dinner in the same church hall. Reservations for the dinner are necessary, and may be made by calling Mrs. Molly Arbuckle, DA 2-3687.

Mrs. Ruth Smith is to be installing officer for the sisters, assisted by Mrs. H. A. Freeberg, grand senior, and Mrs. Charles Halverson, grand manager.

Palo Alto Juniors Help Sell Tickets

"Juniors" from the Palo Alto Junior Women's club aided the Boosters Saturday and Tuesday by staffing a booth to sell tickets for the Palo Alto-Menlo-Atherton basketball game to be played tomorrow night.

The game, incidentally, will be followed by a dance and entertainment. Moneys raised from the event will go toward the depleted boys' athletic fund.

Among juniors contributing their time were Mrs. Harold Starr, Mrs. Elliott Katzen, Mrs. Robert Baines, Mrs. Edward Hazen, Mrs. Seaborn Childs, Mrs. William Bradner, Mrs. J. H. Gray Jr., Mrs. Brown Taylor, Mrs. Edward Hyde and Miss Gladys Spitzer, the latter of Atherton.

January 28 Is Date For Republican Meet

Members of the South San Mateo county council of Republican women will meet Wednesday, January 28 at 2 p. m. in the council chambers of the Menlo Park civic center.

Special speaker for the session will be Aylett R. Cotton from the Republican county Central committee, who will describe the Presidential Inauguration, highlight of his trip to Washington.

All Republican women are invited to join this authorized council, which is a member of the Northern division Federation of Republican women and the California State Federation of Republican Women.

For further information on membership, chairman Mrs. Albert A. Hedge of Menlo Park may be called at DA 2-8481 or Mrs. Marcel Latieze may be reached at EM 6-1372.

Mrs. W. Heaney, Jr., Is New Play Center Head

STANFORD CLUB 'ALOHA' GIFT

'Old Cards' Plan Wed. Supper; Connables Now Life Members

Bowman Alumni house on Stanford university campus will get its first and official "launching" next Wednesday night, when the local Stanford club holds its annual business meeting and election there, highlighted—this year—by a 7 p. m. pot-luck supper.

For "food assignments", members attending are to call Mrs. Charles Burkett at DA 3-6650.

Unfortunately, Stanford clubbers will be missing the traditional presence of Becky and Harold Connable, who left Monday for a two-year stay in Hawaii. The Connables, who were charter members of the board of directors, have for many years "spark-plugged" all events given by the university group.

And for their unflagging efforts, the Atherton couple were presented Friday afternoon with a life-time membership in the club.

Only two other such memberships have been awarded—one to the John Wicketts for their aid and abetment, and the other to the James Reynolds (now of Los Angeles) who helped form the organization here.

Becky and Harold Connable were, incidentally, planning on hosting a cocktail party preceding the Wednesday affair—before they received news of his temporary transfer to the islands.

Tickets for the Coronation Fashion Cruise, sponsored by the Junior League, are now on sale; reservations may be made by calling the Palace hotel, EX 2-8600.

This annual spring event is planned for 3 p. m. Tuesday, February 17 at the Palace, with ensembles to be shown comprising everything appropriate for travel—ball gowns to street wear.

Background and decorations following the Coronation motif will be created by Antonio Sotomayer; apparel will be modeled by 25 Junior League members from the San Francisco, Bay and Peninsula areas.

Birthday and Buffet Gatherings Are 'It' on Weekend Scene Here

By PROXY

A belated birthday party honoring Edward L. Gray Jr., aged 8, was held by his mother on Saturday at their 2239 Menalto avenue home. Edward and his guests were treated to punch and cake and party hats, as well as an indoor afternoon watching comedy films.

Helping the celebrant to celebrate were Neal Holtmann, Nancy Hill, Janet Lyman, David, Stephen and Kevin Bligh, Patty, Richard and "Butch" Ferreira, Dianne and Betsy Carmean, Danny and Mike Ericksen and Edward's brother, Terry Michael Gray.

Celebrating their move to a new home on Maple Leaf way last Saturday night were MP City Engineer Edwin H. Smith and his wife. Twenty-six guests, friends in city government, enjoyed cocktails and buffet supper.

* * * *

There seem to be more moves—in and out of the area—also contemplated. It seems that Helen and Bob Bishop, former Menlo Park residents, are planning to return. They are now living in Walnut Creek, but are looking around here for a store location—specialized glassware and china.

Chester Eschen Jr. has recently taken over acreage for tomato-growing across the bay. He and his wife may or may not move (we hope the latter) depending upon a house over there and their home here between Atherton and Redwood City.

* * * *

Recent parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Kato) Reis, who have added a third son to their family in Atherton. Mrs. Reis, by the way, is Mendelssohn's great-great-grand-daughter, and herself a concert pianist.

* * * *

Among the localite Republicans who headed East to see and participate in Inaugural activities were John Dinkelspiel of Atherton and the Proctor Jones of Menlo Park. The travelers were greeted in Washington by Congressman J. Arthur Younger, who had planned a series of functions for them during their stay.
